We Meet Here Briefly . . . Just For the Moment . . . Then We Will Each Pursue Our Goals and Ideals.

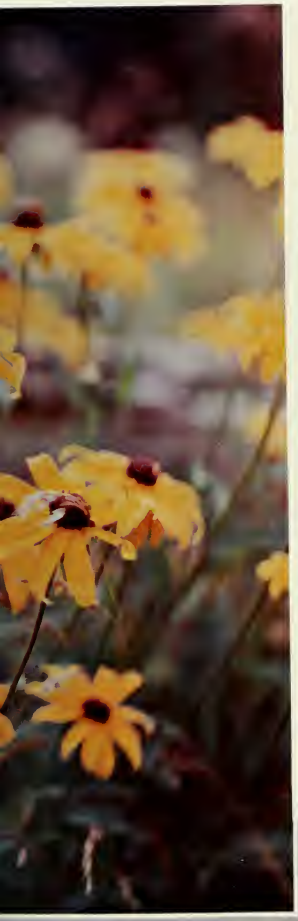

Our Paths Have Led Us Here From Many Places in Life. Each of Us Seeks to Conquer Different Horizons. Let Us Each Seek the Path to Our Own Horizon If There Is No Path, Then Let Us Forge Ahead and Leave a Trail.

On the colored pages of yesterday,
Silver visions changed into the perfumed
And slow walk along the rocky path.
Together, we touched the spring
In that sheltered bower beneath
A Myriad of falling, white petals;
While the unending stream
Blossomed with promises of
Unheard melodies,
We discovered our inner self
and the infinite.

John H. West, Jr.

In the crisp, steel-blue night
We have arrived at some point
And await tomorrow's undiscovered songs and unseen colors . . .
Who shall we be?
In the far-off melodies we shall dream
Our visions and sing our songs . . .
But for now, we know it is truly . . .
The educated student that knows
That the mere acquisition of masses
Of facts and figures is useless unless
The knowledge we have obtained
Is critically examined and
Used in a logical scheme of thought.
These two—thought and knowledge—
Are but fine complements to each other;
Thought makes knowledge useful;
Knowledge makes wise thought possible.
Remember this as you forge your trail.

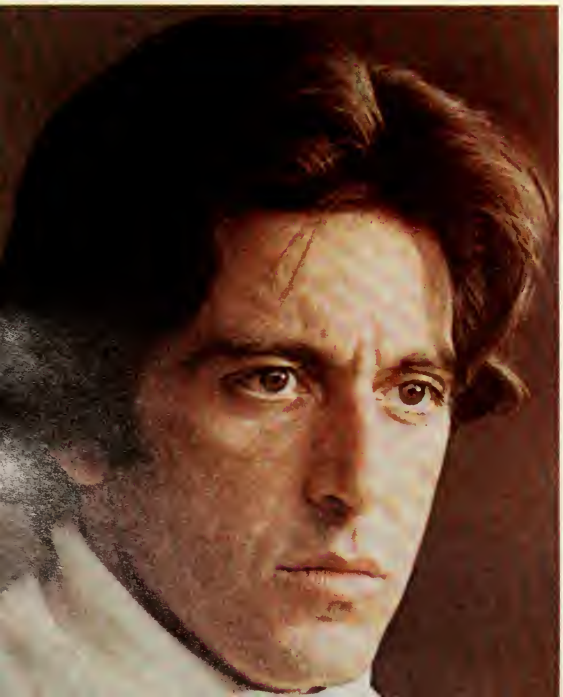

Good things happened on the USCS campus during '77-78. The SGA was always bringing in a band and having a dance, or else showing video tapes of Robert Klein and Fleetwood Mac. The USCS theatre department even got into the act with their wild and wooly review, "Where Do We Go From Here?"

In "Bobby Deefield," a film which didn't do all that well at the nation's box-offices, Al Pacino portrays a race car driver who falls in love with a dying girl.

Love that twosome . . . Barbra Streisand and Kris Kristofferson of "A Star Is Born" . . . a box-office smash.

Everyone from the president on down was shocked and horrified at the August 16th death of the King, Elvis Presley. His last single was the million selling "Way Down."

HONORS

I'll walk with gentle pace,
And choose the smoothest place,
And careful dip the oar,
And shun the winding shore,
And gently steer my boat
Where water-lilies float,
And cardinal flowers
Stand in their sylvan bowers.

I went to the woods because I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived.

SPORTS

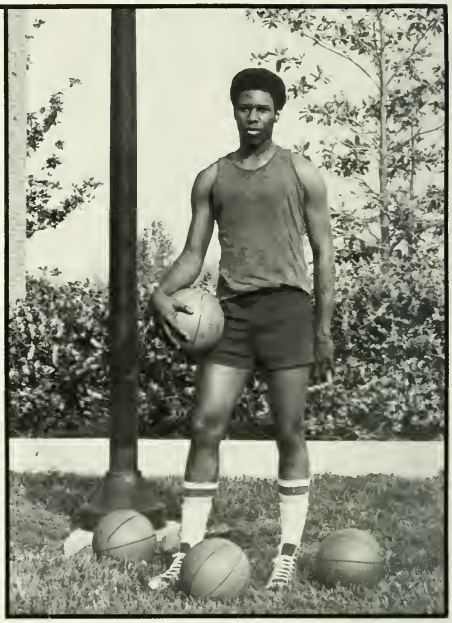

Remember thy creator in the days of thy youth. Rise free from care before the dawn, and seek adventures. Let the noon find thee by other lakes, and the night overtake thee everywhere at home. There are no larger fields than these, no worthier games than may here be played. Grow wild according to thy nature, like these sedges and brakes . . . Let not to get a living be thy trade, but thy sport. Enjoy the land, but own it not. Through want of enterprise and faith men are where they are, buying and selling, and spending their lives like serfs.

CLASSES

I know of but one or two persons with whom I can afford to walk. With most the walk degenerates into a more vigorous use of your legs, ludricrously purposeless, while you are discussing some mighty argument, each one having his say, spoiling each other's day, worrying one another with conversation, hustling one another with our conversation. I know of no use in the walking part in this case, except that we may seem to be getting on together towards some goal; but of course we keep our original distance all the way. Jumping every wall and ditch with vigor in the vain hope of shaking your companion off. Trying to kill two birds with one stone, though they sit at opposite points of compass, to see nature and do the honors to one who does not.

If a man does not keep pace

perhaps it is because

The Hodge Center . . . a Place to Congregate, Colloborate, Communicate

"Columbus Sailed the Ocean Blue,
He Had His Problems Same As You,
For Forty Days He Drove His Ark
Before HE Found a Place to Park"

If we've got to pay ten dollars for a parking sticker the least they could do is pave the lots . . . That's not a parking sticker, that's a hunting license . . . Who designed those tacky parking stickers anyway . . . Well, sir, the reason I'm twenty minutes late is I couldn't find a parking place . . . If luck is with me, I might find a place in the gravel pit . . . Call security my car won't start again . . . If they can reserve a place for the faculty they can reserve a place for me—I'm a senior . . . There is one solution to the parking situation (You can come to school at 6:30 A.M.)

Graduation . . .
Leaving Behind Friends, Times Both

Good and Bad, and a Lot of Memories . . .

Epilogue

Note to 78-79 Carolana Editor . . .

Inside office 214 you will find your home for the next year. Learn to love it this very day because you'll be seeing it more times than you want. Learn to talk to the walls, the desk, the ceiling, for there will be times when no one else will talk to you. Learn to be patient, not everything will come to you on a silver platter. Learn to accept responsibility, for when something goes wrong it will always be your fault, no matter what. Learn to accept criticism, it comes often. Learn to appreciate those who offer you their help, for they are few, but they are sincere and should be praised. Learn to stay ahead, deadlines shouldn't be missed. Love all photographers as if they were your mother, remember, pictures make the book. Don't be alarmed if you wake in the wee hours of the night and want to draw layouts or write copy, it comes natural. You'll meet many, many people during the year, some you'll like, some you'll love, some you can do without. Accept them as they are and don't try to change them.

Above all, be yourself and mold the book the way you want it and you'll do fine. I'll leave with memories always to be treasured—memories of classes and professors, of fights and cussing outs, of CAROLANA and '78 in general—and of those people who made this year complete by just being there and for just being themselves . . .

Take Care my Friend,
(Whoever you may be)
Tommy Parks, ed. '78

. . . And so there ain't nothing more to write about and I am rotten glad of it because if I'd a knowed what a trouble it was to make a book I wouldn't a tackled it and I ain't agoing to no more. But I reckon I got to light out for the Territory ahead of the rest, because Aunt Sally she's going to adopt me and sivilize me and I can't stand it. I been there before.

—Mark Twain—
